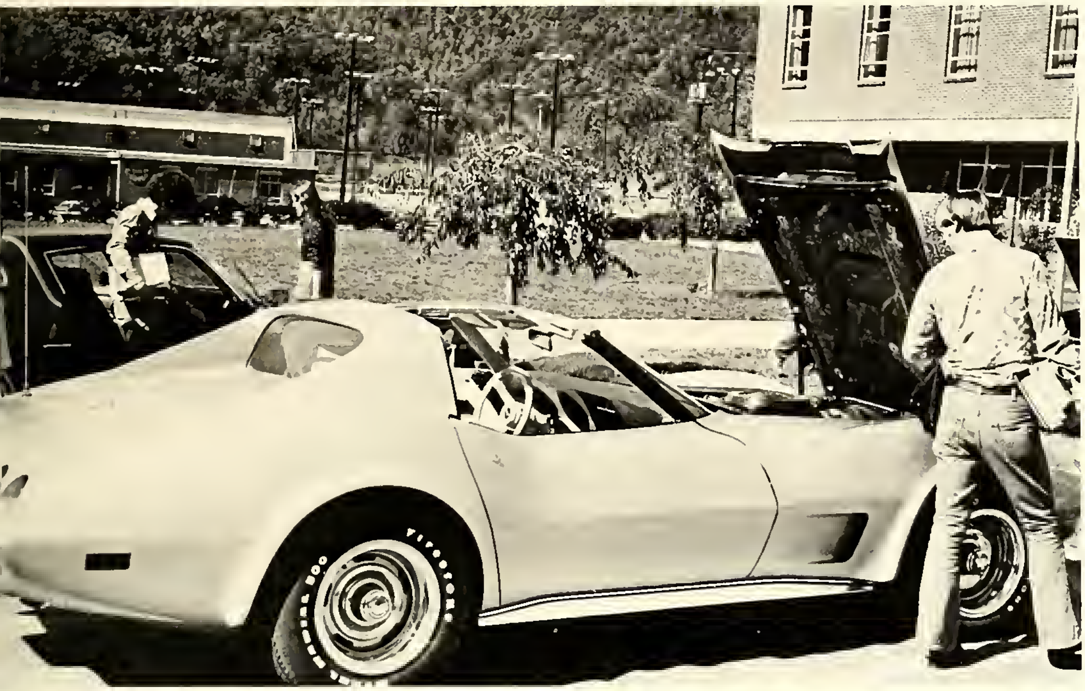
Band Day

Band Day, sponsored by the Catamount Marching Band, was held October 9 in Whitmire Stadium. Band Day is a scheduled contest for some thirty high school bands throughout the area. Members of the Catamount Band helped with the organization of the contest and the visiting bands. They were judged by a panel of prominent university band directors.

Car Show



The New Car Show, sponsored by the UCB, was held October 13 and 14 on the grounds of the University Center. There were numerous styles of new cars on display for students to view. The Chevrolet Touring Show had representatives on the grounds to answer questions from inquiring students.

Mt. Heritage Day was held October 16 on the grounds around Belk Art building. Tobacco spitting contests, dog shows, and square dancing and clogging were scheduled events throughout the day. Music was provided by Marc Pruett and the New Day Country Band, and Doug Davis was the caller for the day. There were booths and stores displaying food, cider, crafts, and plants found all over the area.

The highlight of Mt. Heritage Day was the presentation of the first Mountain Heritage Award to John Parris by Chancellor Robinson. Mr. Parris, a newspaperman and author, has written several books concerning the history, humor and arts of the mountains. Everyone agreed that John Parris was a deserving recipient of the award for his outstanding contributions to mountain literature.

The annual UCB Funhouse was held October 29 and 30 in the Joyner building. Students witnessed horrid, gory scenes created by members of the UCB who were responsible for making their own costumes. They had a great deal of help with makeup from the STA department.

On October 21, Election Awareness Day was held in which several candidates and representatives for the upcoming election gathered on the second floor of the University Center to discuss their platforms and views on pressing issues so that students and the general public would be aware of the candidates and their opinions. Among the candidates present were Briggs, Gudger, and Hiatt.

Casino Night

Western Carolina enjoyed a night of true Las Vegas-style entertainment as the UCB sponsored the third annual Casino Night on November 5. In addition to the usual blackjack, crap tables, and other card-playing, a dance troupe performed several numbers under the direction of professional choreographer and WCU student, Sheila Radford.

On November 6 in Whitmire Stadium, a crowd of 11,620, the largest in Western's history, assembled to watch Western Carolina play and eventually defeat Lenoir-Rhyne for what turned out to be a glorious Homecoming 1976. During halftime proceedings seven of Western's best ladies paraded the field, and with tears of happiness Melanie Shore carried the crown back with her. She was crowned by 1975 Homecoming Queen, Debra Busby, with Chancellor Robinson and Susie Profitt, Miss North Carolina, on hand to assist.

Earlier on the same day a parade was held in downtown Cullowhee. The theme for Homecoming was CATSTRUCTION, and several floats displaying the theme participated.

Miss Thanksgiving Womanless Pageant

The Thanksgiving Womanless Pageant, sponsored by the service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega, was held November 16 in Hoey Auditorium. Although the participants were all well qualified, Layne Barrett received the honor of Miss Thanksgiving.

Many of Western's most daring men (?) competed for the crown. Clogging, ballet, hula dancing, singing, and several instrumentals entertained the guests as the talent competition took place. Donations were given in the form of canned foods, clothes, and money in order to help the needy families of Jackson County.

Christmas Bazaar

The Christmas Bazaar, sponsored by the UCB, was held November 17 and 18 on the third floor of the University Center. Several civic leagues, high school clubs, and university organizations displayed their merchandise; and money obtained went to the groups' own particular charity. In yuletide surroundings amidst Christmas decorations and carols people sauntered from one table of crafts and food to the next creating a general atmosphere of warmth and friendship.

Snow in Cullowhee? Yes, that's right, snow in Cullowhee! For the first time in several years, the school cancelled all Monday's classes.'' Since many students could not return from weekend travels, and commuters would have trouble attending, the administration declared a day of rest and happiness for Western students. It was a day of fun for, as the snow continued, herds of students were bombarding each other in snowball fights, and sleighing continued all day and into the night. Although only one day's classes were cancelled, it was an agreeable surprise to all. Being one of the worst winters ever, Cullowhee had its share of snow and flurries, for approximately 10 to 12 inches of snow accumulated during the year.

Tubing Race

Although it was one of the coldest winters on record, it didn't stop 22 students from taking part in the seventh annual WCU tubing race. Derek Hiscox, a sophomore from Hendersonville, took first place in the UCB-sponsored event to the cheers of more than 600 spectators. Hiscox, who finished the two-mile course in 30-and-one-half minutes, was award $50 in prize money. Richard Baker, a senior from Valdese, won $25 for his second-place finish and Winston-Salem freshman Ken Nifong was presented the third-place award of $15.

Intercollegiate Tubing Race

WCU's fourth annual intercollegiate tubing race was held on the Tuckaseigee River, with six schools participating. The three-man teams from other schools were Cumberland College, Madison College, Middle Tennessee State University, Murry State University and the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. Derek Hiscox, Richard Baker, and Ken Nifong represented WCU in the race. When it was all over Richard Baker won first place, well representing WCU.

Black Week

"Black Progress: Our Road Toward Freedom" was the theme of the O.E.S.-sponsored Black Awareness Week 1977. The week began with a campus-wide fashion and talent show. Soul food was served in Brown Cafeteria, and the Chelsea Gallery in Hinds University Center exhibited art from the collection of Wadell Cunningham of Asheville throughout the period. The week ended with the Black Awareness Week annual ball and the crowning of Barbra Meadows at the traditional Ms. O.E.S. Pageant.

Hike for Hope

Phi Mu sponsored a very successful annual Hike for Hope in 1977. The twenty-five-mile hike from the University Center to Cherokee was participated in by nearly 100 hikers. The hikers' pledges amounted to approximately $1,700, according to Phi Mu Beverly Parsons, who directed the hike this year. The money raised by the hike will help support the medical treatment programs of the floating hospital ship, Hope.

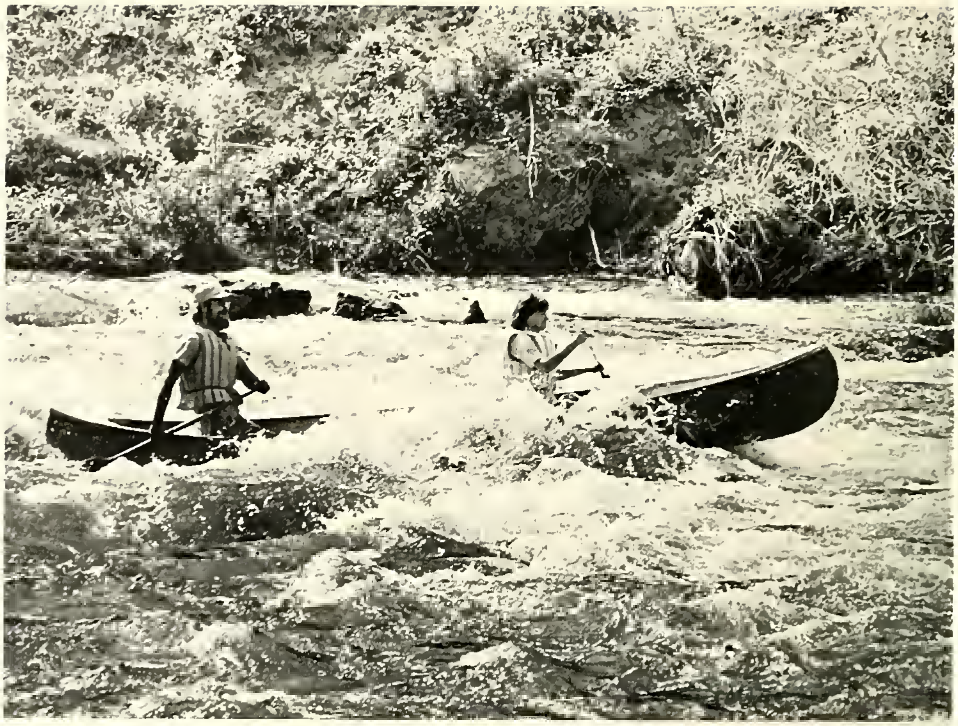
The year 1976-77 brought to WCU an Army Reserve Officers Training Corps, or, as it is more commonly known, ROTC. The program was initially established as an extension center of the Clemson University ROTC detachment.

Dr. Robinson said Army ROTC "will offer outstanding leadership training, various forms of financial aid, and academic enrichment while students are in the program, and an excellent additional job option when they graduate." The program is a collegiate course of study that complements any academic major selected by the student. It is open to both men and women who are enrolled as full-time students.

Spring Fever

With the advent of warm weather, after one of the coldest and snowiest winters in Cullowhee in a long time, WCU students flocked to the outdoors. Out came the flying frisbees, skateboards, and bicycles. Many warm spring days found WCU students canoeing, tubing, swimming, hiking, jogging, streaking, and the ever popular sunbathing.



Car Slalom

The UCB sponsored the seventh annual sports car slalom May 12 at E.J. Whitmire Stadium parking lot. There were men's and women's divisions and both overall and class trophies were awarded.

'76-'77 Events

The years 1976 and 1977 were history-making ones in many ways — both for the world-at-large, and our own little "world" at WCU. Events took place at Cullowhee that will affect future generations of WCU students, while other events developed on a larger scale that will continue to affect people's lives on a national and international level.

Several major changes occurred at WCU including the completion of a new Science Annex to the Stillwell Science Building, and the beginning construction on a new Arts Building on what once was the location of the UC parking lot. Other changes took place more immediately. The old AM radio station, WCAT, transformed, through a lot of expense and hard work, into the nowfunctioning FM station, WWCU. Another addition to the WCU campus was the electronic checking system in Hunter Library. The change that seemed to affect students most directly and immediately, however, was the switch from being a quarterly-system-operating school in 1976-'77 to a semester-system one in 1977-'78. This change meant a shorter summer for WCU students and faculty before returning to longer school terms.

THE WESTERN CAROLINIAN

WCU was not so involved in its own affairs that the people didn't become involved with, and feel the effects of, larger issues. The November presidential election, culminating in the inauguration of Jimmy Carter as President, was an actively debated issue on campus. Other events noted by Western students and staff included the execution of Gary Gilmore by firing squad, the energy crisis — especially as the winter months were some of the coldest and most harsh felt by WCU, as well as the rest of the nation in a long time, Idi Amin's contributions to the world's troubles, the takeover of several Washington buildings by a group of Hanafi Moslems, and the opening of the infamous Alaskan Pipeline.

Oscar Wilde's The Importance Of Being Earnest is a farcical revival of the Restoration's "comedy of manners." It points up the shallow mask of manners indicative of the Victorian Era. Earnest was first produced on February 14, 1895, at the St. James Theatre and was an enormously popular, if not critical, success. WCU's production of the play was directed by Stephen L. Carr.

The Cats had a good season in 1976, closing with a 6-4 record. They received a ranking of sixth in NCAA Division II polls due to an early season record of 3-0. Two WCU players received All-America honors: Mike Wade — for first team Academic All-America, and Darrell Lipford — for third team All-America. Coach Waters achieved his 50th win here at WCU by coaching his squad to victory over Lenoir-Rhyne.

Western gave a tough ECU team a commendable show of the "Catamount Spirit," despite the eventual loss at Greenville. This same spirit paid off as wins came against Murray State, Livingston, Jacksonville, Presbyterian, East Tennessee, and Lenoir-Rhyne.

Leading the statistics was Darrell Lipford who gained 1107 yards for the season. Monfread Manns led the defense squad with 51 solo tackles.

This year's Soccer team had a tough season with a 4-7-1 record. A closer look at the record shows that the seven losses present a "deceiving" appearance. The WCU team dropped three close games to opponents with one-goal decisions making the difference.

On the brighter side, the team enjoyed wins over North Georgia College, UNC-Greensboro, and Warren Wilson. They also held a tie with Furman University.

The Soccer team is looking forward to the upcoming 1977 season as it will involve several "firsts" for the team. They will be playing their first NCAA Division schedule, as well as their first Southern Conference games. the schedule will be one of the largest ever for WCU with 17 matches. The Cats will be playing such teams as Clemson, UNC-Chapel Hill, USC, Erskine and Emory University. Coach Schrader feels that, with three seniors and one junior returning to the team, along with some promising younger team members, the 1977 team will be a more well-rounded team than the 1976 one.

The Soccer team became involved during the year with a program in which team members helped local children learn and develop soccer skills. The program was simply called "KIDS" which stood for "Kids Interested in Developing Soccer." The six-week program attracted over 100 youngsters from the Cullowhee area. The two leagues that formed were composed of one league for eight-and twelve-year-olds, and another league for eight-year-olds exclusively.

John Slater, one of the organizers of the program, called the response to the program "outstanding" and praised the team for their participation.

Basketball Basketball Basketball

This just wasn't the Basketball Cats' year. They were able to out-rebound their opponents but the points just didn't add up. Their final record was 8-16. The wins did include a big one over ECU (66-53) — revenge for an earlier season loss.

This was a difficult transition season for the Cats as they moved from Division II to Division I play. Although the final season's record didn't show it, the Cats constantly put forth 100% effort, according to Fred Conley.

Coach Conley had several returning players: Bubba Wilson, Jay Lassiter, Ike Mims, and George Dodkin. All four were starters. Ike Mims led in scoring with 15.0, also in rebounding with 10.0. Bubba Wilson led in assists with 99.

They had the honor to be the first cross country team at WCU to compete in the Southern Conference tourney by running in the Southern Conference Championship at Boone. The team also competed in the N.C. State Championship Meet in Raleigh, where they finished in an overall eighth place position. Team members Dennis Kasprzyk and Tim Otten finished 15th and 30th, respectively, in the state championship meet.

The lady gymnasts had somewhat of a rebuilding year. They finished with a season record of 6-5. The Lady Cats placed third overall at the State AIAW meet, an event won by WCU for the past four years. The gymnasts showed strong performances by returnees Julie Gallagher and Martha Benedict, and new-comer Carla York. Their season's wins included victories over Duke, Appalachian, and South Carolina.

Coach Sue Fields was named to the United States Collegiate Sports Council Game Committee on Women's Gymnastics for the 1977 World University Games to be held in Sofia, Bulgaria.

Coach Betty Peele's volleyball team had a tough season, finishing with a 5-9 record against some of the South's strongest competition. Starting with an impressive 4-1 mark, the Lady Cats played against several top-ranked teams and then finished the regular season with a 15-6, 15-7 home victory over Central Wesleyan. The team competed in both the Appalachian State Tournament and the NCAIAW Tournament, which they entered seeded fourth.

WCU can boast of a truly great baseball team and coach in 1977. They broke nineteen school records and tied two former records. They finished the season with a 27-5 score, placing second in the Southern Conference. Not receiving a playoff bid was a great disappointment.

Little else proved disappointing, however. WCU led the nation in runs scored per game. Their winning percentage was .844. WCU won the Southern Conference team batting title with a .322 record. Their fielding average was .957. Individually, Keith Ebersole led the nation in RBI and won the RBI title in the Southern Conference. Wayne Tolleson ranked fifth in the NCAA in stolen bases and received that corresponding title in the Southern Conference. Rick Adair was second in the Southern Conference with strikeouts. Jerry Reed held a 10-0 record with the most wins in the Southern Conference and was fifth in the nation with that record.

The WCU golf team for 1977 claimed a good dual record of 15-7. Like the rest of the WCU teams, it was their first year in the Southern Conference. WCU finished fifth in the Southern Conference tournament behind Furman, Marshall, ASU, and ECU. Steve Hamrick placed sixth in the conference with his stroke average of 75.6. He also shot WCU's record low round of 66. The same score proved to be the Southern Conference Low Round of 1977.

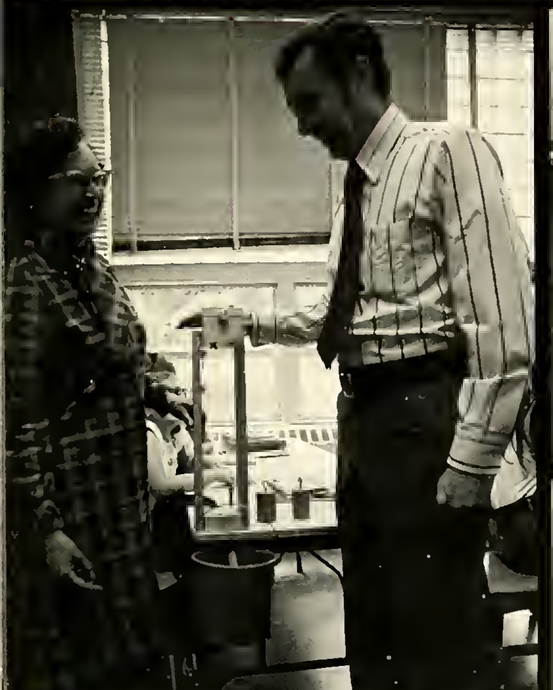
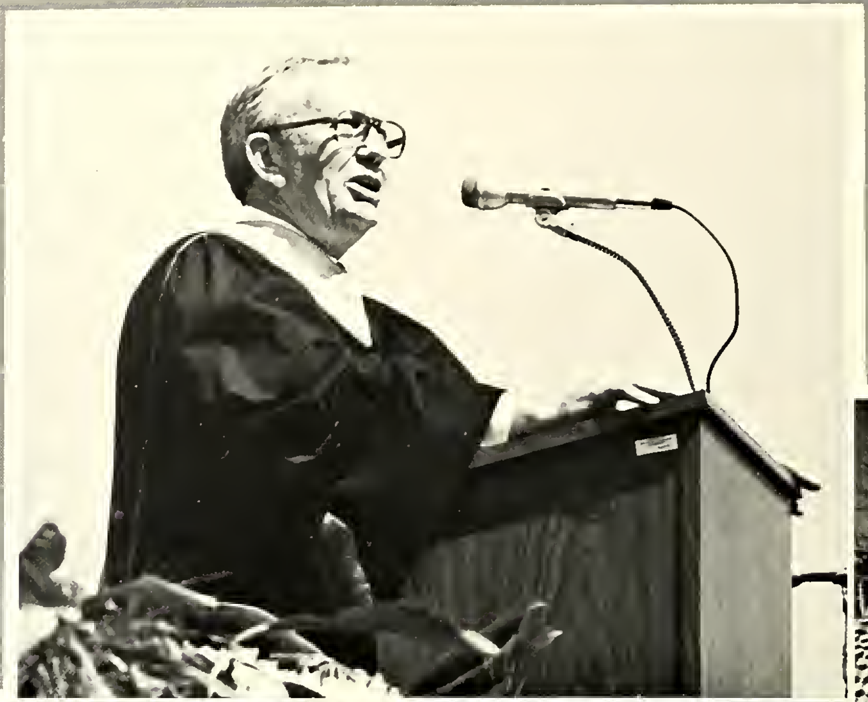
ADMINISTRATION





Western Carolina's Chancellor Harold F. Robinson is a man with a varied and impressive background. He and his wife, the former Katherine Palmer, have two daughters.

Chancellor Robinson attended Mars Hill and later NC State, where he received his B.S. degree in 1939 and his Master's in 1940, both degrees in Plant Breeding. He received his Ph.D. in Genetics and Plant Breeding from the University of Nebraska in 1948. From 1941-'45, he served in the U.S. Navy in antisubmarine warfare. From the mid-1940's until 1968, Chancellor Robinson served in various capacities at NC State including professor, Head of the Genetics Department, Director of the Institute of Biological Sciences, and the Administrative Dean for Research. From 1968-'71, Robinson was Vice-Chancellor of Georgia's University System, and taught at such schools as Georgia Tech, Georgia State, University of Georgia, and Medical College of Georgia. In the years from 1971-'74, he served as Provost, as well as a professor, at Purdue University.

In addition to these collegiate activities, Dr. Robinson has served on a large number of state and national committees, including a presidential advisory committee under President Johnson.

In 1974, H.F. Robinson became Chancellor at WCU, following a stormy period of a succession of chancellors and acting chancellors. Since his arrival at Western, Chancellor Robinson has continued his active, productive record. Major changes have been made on the WCU campus, including beautification of the campus amidst the construction and renovation of several campus buildings. Under his administration, Western is in the current process of changing from a quarter-system calendar to one of semesters. WCU is pleased to have a Chancellor who takes an active concern in student, as well as administrative, affairs.

Being a freshman is:

- — being homesick the first week of fall semester and having a ball the second week
- — meeting life-long friends
- — starting all over again
- — having a new sense of independence
- — enjoying being away from home but enjoying going home too
- — constantly losing that blasted meal ticket
- — navigating registration for the first time
- — trying to pick the right professor
- — getting christened in the shower
- — never having enough money
- — enjoying the food at the cafeteria and then changing your mind
- — learning to live with a roommate
- — gaining about ten pounds
- — having fun!

WHO'S WHO

Who's Who Among Students In American Universities And Colleges is a nationally recognized honor. Selection begins with nominations by students and faculty. Nominees prepare an evaluation sheet with numerical values assigned to academic standing, extracurricular activities, and honors. A committee of students and faculty then makes the selection for recommendation to the national office.

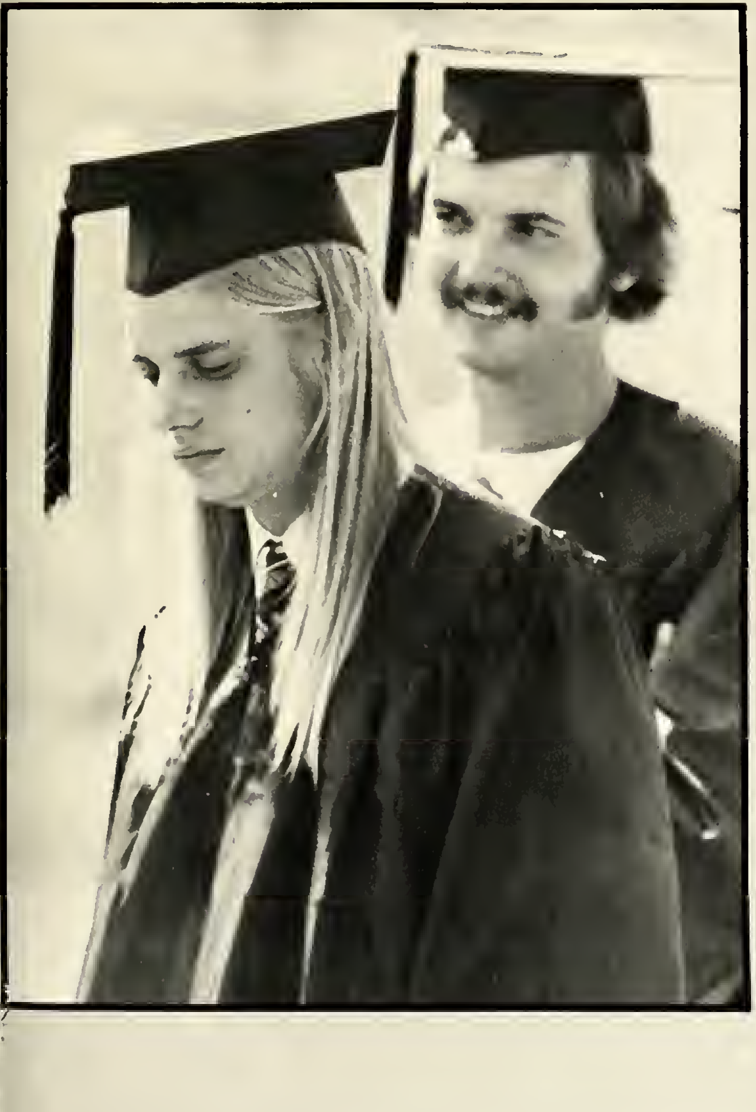
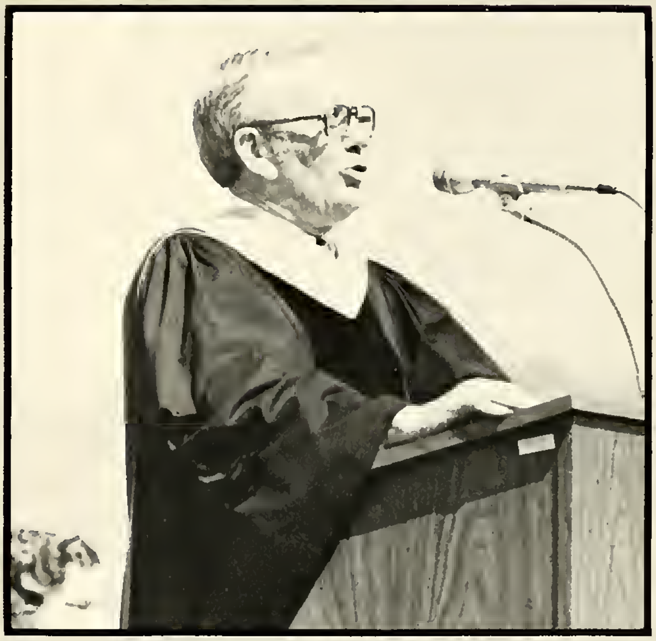
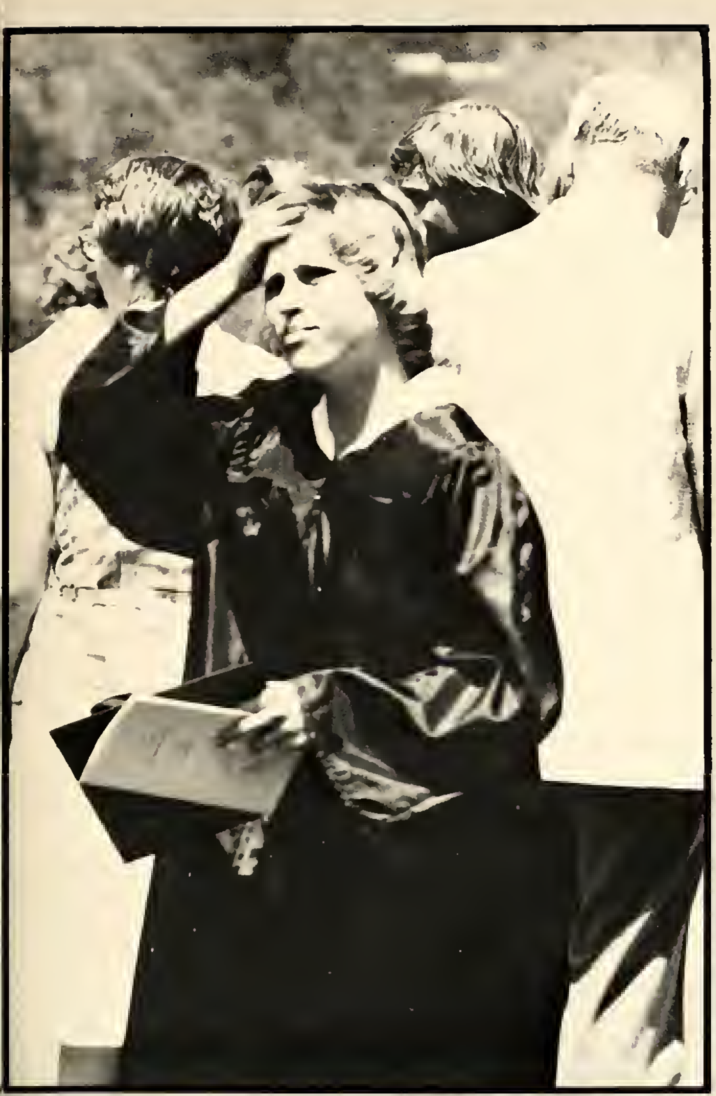
Graduation 1977







Graduation Day dawned bright, sunny and hot. Anticipation, and the temperature, rose steadily for the nine hundred and three graduates sweltering under their black caps and gowns. Proud families and friends listened with the graduates as Chancellor Robinson and Senator Robert Morgan delivered their respective congratulatory final speeches. Applause and cheers burst forth as each different school of students were pronounced official graduates of WCU by Chancellor Robinson. The graduates marched off to receive their diplomas, have their pictures taken, and unload their caps and robes. The years of hard work and good times had come to a close, leaving many memories . . .

YOU PUT US ON THE MAP.

When we opened our first Hardee's, we opened them right here in the Carolinas. And today, with more than 900 restaurants across the United States and two foreign countries, our home is still the Carolinas.

Which is why, no matter how big we get tomorrow, we'll always remember all of you who helped get us off the ground yesterday.

So next time you say hello to our delicious charbroiled burgers, golden french fries and all the other good things on our nationally famous menu, give yourself a well-deserved pat on the back. After all, it was you who put us on the map.

And we'll never forget it.
